administration . . .

Renovation and improvement were key words to the 1964-65 school session. The new Automatic Data Processing machine facilitated the routine of individual report cards, thereby leaving Mr. Jackson with more time to tend to other aspects of his office. Another welcome feature to the school was the much-needed plastering and painting which restored and beautified the building. One of the many distinctions of the school year was Mr. Julca's first full year as Assistant Principal for Instruction.

This year, the SCA introduced many changes to make the existing organization more compact and efficient. One change was the combination of the Building and Grounds Committee, the Arts and Bulletin Boards Committee, the school store, and the cafeteria menu to form the Interior Committee. Another change was the addition of the office of historian, whose job is to straighten records of past administrations and to compile a clear and accurate account of the present one. In addition to the cabinet innovation, the SCA attempted to become more active by organizing an Interclub Council, under the Vice President, to provide direct communication between the SCA and the other organizations of the school. Among the SCA's many activities were included improving relations among Mt. Vernon, Ft. Hunt, and Groveton, raising money for the AFS, and most important, working to combine the two Student Cooperative Associations existing in Virginia, for white students and for colored students. Another innovation was the early election of SCA officers, in order that the officers-elect may have better training for their offices. The SCA, with an active and successful year, provided the machinery to continue a stable administration next year.

This year the choral department found themselves busier than ever. Beginning their year, Symphonic and Charmettes sang at the Honor Society Induction. Thanksgiving came with all choruses singing at the annual Thanksgiving assembly. The Madrigals, continuing the tradition they began last year, gave a formal madrigal concert in their Elizabethian costumes; they also sang with the Y.W.C.A. for a Christmas program at the Washington Cathedral. In December, the department combined efforts with the Art & Drama departments in the production of Annie Get Your Gun; in addition to "Annie," the choruses presented their annual Christmas program. All choruses worked hard to produce "their own show," "Jubilee." They also suceessfully presented their second Requiem Mass. At Easter, Madrigals, Charmettes and Symphonic were honored to sing at the Senate Office Building. Soon afterwards, the choral department finished the year with the Spring Concert.

The Groveton High School Band's busy year began with the half-time shows at most of the home football games. In October, the Golden Tigers performed at half-time for the University of Virginia. November came with two concerts: one at the Methodist Hermittage and the other at the St. Louis School. The two Tiny Tot Concerts in December delighted many children. Along with the annual winter concert, the band also performed at the Soldier's Home. In early February, several band members performed in the All State Band. Jubilee, a February production, was the combining of the band with the choruses, which resulted in a delightful presentation. In March, the band participated in the District IV Band and also the solo and ensemble festival. The band was honored to march in the Cherry Blossom Parade in April. The Golden Tiger Band traveled to New York City to perform at the United States Pavillion, and Outdoor Band Pavillion of the World's Fair. New this year was a class of drill masters who volunteered to meet after school and were responsible for the many excellent precision drills.

In the beginning of the year, a group of girls who were interested in twirling the baton got together to tryout for the Tigerettes. Throughout the year, the chosen girls participated in many events, such as the halftime football activities, baton contests, and Jubilee. One of the highlights of the year was marching with the band for their second year in the Cherry Blossom Festival. When funds were needed the girls sold candy and baked goods after school.

Drama anyone? Groveton's National Thespian Troupe 1899 was composed of members genuinely interested in drama who had acquired ten points awarded on the basis of work. The Troupe's purpose was to promote interest and to provide an opportunity for talented members to participate in stage productions. The Thespians continued to publish "Ad Libs," a newspaper containing letters from graduates and news of recent Thespian activities. Our principal Mr. Rodney Taylor was made the first honorary Thespian member. In March, the Thespians presented their annual festival play, "Seven Princesses."

quill and scroll

This year marked the beginning of the Groveton chapter of Quill and Scroll, a national honorary journalism society. After receiving the charter in November, the society's sponsor chose the members from a list submitted by the sponsors of each of the school's three publications. To qualify for membership, a student had to rank in the top third of his class and to make a distinctive contribution in the field of journalism. The number of members was not limited. The society spent their first year electing officers and increasing their membership. Their main goal was to maintain high standards in all the aspects of the art of journalism.

This year several new policies have been incorporated into the selling, make-up, and production of the school periodical. The first was the block subscription plan in which Tiger Rag was sold with Tigerama; this raised the circulation of the newspaper considerably. Another innovation was the liberal policy adopted by the paper; with the use of its largely editorial format, such questions as student smoking, drinking, and cheating were discussed. The features page included Sally Taylor's column "Sally Sez", and different articles concerning items of interest to the faculty and the student body. The year's various sports activities got ample coverage in the Tiger Rag's sports section, both during and after the action reports. The Tiger Rag was a faithful reporter of the many activities that were held and the events that occurred at Groveton.

The Art Guild spent this, its second year of existence, organizing and solidifying itself; not only was the membership doubled from last year but the meetings were held more regularly. In October, several members took a sketching trip to Skyline Drive. Also the Guild visited the Gugginheim, the Metropolitan, The Museum of Modern Art, and the Whitney Art Galleries, on a field trip to New York in November. The members went to the Phillips Gallery in Washington, D. C. along with the Art classes and traveled to Richmond in the Spring to visit the Virginia Museum. The Guild sponsored the Spring Art Show and the members served for the annual tea for the faculty given by the Art Department.

Oneirata, Groveton's literary magazine has one goal, to get students interested in creative writing. To further this aim, Oneirata sponsored a contest that brought considerable response. The staff used this and other material in their three issues. The magazine maintained an active relationship with the art department and used much of its material in its publications. This year, Oneirata was printed entirely in Groveton High School with the aid of the new multilith machine.

Continuing their traditions, the National Honor Society endeavored to promote leadership, to create enthusiasm for scholarship, and to encourage development of character. In order to achieve this goal, they did volunteer work at D. C. Junior Village and sponsored other worthwhile activities such as the tutoring service after school. By contributing ten per cent of their money earned from tutoring, the members helped to provide a scholarship for a deserving fellow member.

french honor society

Organized to promote an understanding of the French language and civilization, the French Honor Society provided a means by which students could gather to better their knowledge and pronunciation. On one of their monthly meetings, the club went to American University to view "Tartuffe," Moliere's classic play of hypocrisy. The year was marked by the departure of the society's sponsor, Mrs. Croom; as a farewell gesture, the members gave a party in her honor on one of their trips to a French restaurant. Since only 10% of all French students were chosen for membership, these students had to be at least in their third year of French and had to maintain a "B" average.

The Spanish Honor Society's two aims are to recognize high achievement in the study of the Spanish language, and to promote the continuity of interest in the Hispanic culture. To become a member of the Groveton High School Gabriela Minstral Chapter of the Spanish Honor Society, a student must be a sophomore or a junior with a 3.0 average, or a senior with a 3.2 average. The induction of new members was held in January this year, with a quiet, impressive ceremony that was conducted in Spanish. The Society's major activity was the annual trip to a Spanish restaurant. The members ate various native dishes to the accompaniment of a Flamenco guitar.

Groveton's Key Club, an honorary service organization for outstanding boys, under the auspices of the Alexandria Kiwanis Club, served our school and community throughout the year. They collected and distributed old clothes for the needy at Christmas time and worked at Junior Village throughout the year. In January, they sponsored a massive but very successful pancake breakfast to help finance the American Field Service; they further served the school by directing traffic at athletic and other school events during the year.

In order to raise money for their national project, the Peace Corps, the Groveton Keyette Club came up with such original ideas as the making and selling of taffy apples and the raffling of club members as slaves on "Slave Day." Among their local service projects they made arm bands for the Key Club, served as teachers' helpers at the beginning of school, gave a tea for our Exchange Student, Utz Felcht, made stuffed animals at Christmas for children in hospitals, and held an appreciation week for teachers. Also, several members did volunteer work during the year at Junior Village. This year the club managed to send twelve of their girls to the National Convention in March at Fort Monroe, Virginia.

Resolved: That nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization; this was the topic that both the Varsity and Junior Varsity debating teams researched on and practiced for the competition matches that began in February. The teams had a successful season, and the Varsity was invited to attend debating tournaments at the University of Texas, the University of Richmond, and Columbia University.

One of the activities of the club was to send Christmas cards written in Latin to all the teachers. The members also attended the Latin Club Banquet, where they both ate and dressed as Romans. The club's ambition was to initiate a Latin Honor Society at Groveton.

In order to increase their knowledge of science, interested students joined Groveton's Science Club. The club held meetings twice a month where members were able to listen to guest speakers, watch special films, and devote time to their individual science projects. In March, several club members were chosen to attend the Tri-County Science Fair, where they proudly displayed their finished projects.

Some students feel lucky simply to pass their math courses; however, the understanding of intricate problems and confusing digits was only a challenge to members of the Math Club. All interested students were eligible to join, the only requirements being the payment of twenty-five cents yearly dues. The members furthered their interests in the field of mathematics by working on the extension of the maneuverability of problem applications. In addition, the club gave active support of the Science Fair.

In order to combine fun with the learning of French customs, Mrs. Fenili and the French Club planned an interesting year. Their activities were mainly directed toward orientating interested students to the French way of life. The accomplishment of their goal was aided by the students who had visited France and spoke to the club concerning their impressions of the country. At the December meeting, a party was held at which French Christmas customs were introduced to club members. A bulletin board was kept throughout the year to inform the general student body of the French club. At the end of the year, the money collected from dues was used to finance a French dinner.

Those students interested in German found the German club very interesting and informative during its second year at Groveton. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Ford, the club went to two German restaurants for dinner; in addition, they saw several movies about Germany, depicting her countryside, history, and landmarks. On several occasions, they invited Groveton's German exchange student to speak about his native country and customs.

In its first year of existence, the Pep Club had an overwhelming turnout for membership. Since there was no restriction or age limit imposed, the officers came from all grades. Early in the year the members decided that they would all wear black V-neck sweaters with Groveton High School emblems. Augmenting school spirit by making posters, decorating goal posts, and helping at the concession stand, peppy Tigers also won the club prize in the magazine drive. They raised any needed money by selling candy after school.

To accomplish this, guest speakers were invited, films and slides were shown, and Spanish music was played. Also, the pinata party at Christmas helped to introduce the Spanish Yule customs to members. At the end of the year, the club, under the sponsorship of Miss Frith, visited the Spanish Embassy and had dinner at a Spanish restaurant. Club members found the activities of the year not only fun, but also quite informative.

The only requirement for membership was that they have a sincere interest in the nursing profession. Fulfilling their desires, the girls visited Junior Village every second Monday; in addition, they made scrapbooks and toys for the children. Bakesales were held throughout the year to finance their projects.

Learning the appreciation of wise homemaking and furthering their interests in a home economics career, the Future Homemakers of America spent the year serving their community in various ways. First on the year's agenda, the members held their annual picnic to which any interested girl with at least one year of home economics could attend. The girls were again in charge of the Breakfast Club, an activity that was highly appreciated by hungry members of the student body. Large profits for the year were the collection of money on Halloween for U.N.I.C.E.F. and the drive for food, toys, and clothing at Christmas time for needy families. The girls also gave their time for periodical trips to Junior Village to care for the children. The club's other activities included taking advantage of the District's many tourist attractions by taking trips to Mt. Vernon, the Washington Monument, Smithsonian Institute, White House, Capitol, Iwo Jima Memorial, and the Lincoln Memorial.

Although the varsity Tigers ended the season with a disappointing 2-8 record, new enthusiasm and team spirit were displayed on the gridiron. Coach Ward, bringing a devotion to football and a new philosophy to Groveton, instilled in the boys a pride in the school and confidence in themselves. Even though few games were won, the team always played exciting games, which, with the exception of one game, could have gone either way; in addition, the Tigers were never scoreless.

At the annual fall athletic assembly, the following boys were honored for their outstanding play:

Most Valuable Player — Dave Ringwalt
Most Improved Player — Cliff Orton
Sportsmanship Award — Calvin Whitmer

In addition to the new outlook of the players and fans, Tiger Stadium also took on a "new look." Thanks to the Tiger Boosters, a fence was put up around the field and a modern press box was built.

With a large number of juniors and sophomores on the '64 varsity team, Coaches Ward and Ford have good material with which to build the '65 varsity; Grovetonites can look forward to a hustling and determined team in 1965.

Although taught the fundamentals in good sportsmanship and football from coaches Henderson and Duvall, the J. V. football team suffered a losing season from a lack of strength and experience.

However, many games were close; the J. V. lost to Lee, Mt. Vernon, Marshall, and Fort Hunt by one touchdown in each game. The opening game was lost to a strong Jefferson varsity team 19-6. League-leading Hammond, Yorktown, and Wakefield also handed the J. V. defeats.

Although the Junior Varsity Football Team lacked the necessary strength and skill to defeat their opponents, they did not lack good sportsmanship, the desire to win, or a good attitude. Groveton can be proud of the effort made by the J. V. team which never gave up or lost hope.

The team honored Andy Burrell for his outstanding sportsmanship at the fall awards assembly.

The Freshman Football Team had a "great" year as they pleased the fans, parents, and coaches with a fine 3-2-1 record.

Starting the season with a 12-0 victory over a strong Edison team, the freshmen continued their winning ways with victories over Fort Hunt and Lee and a tie with Mt. Vernon. On a rainy afternoon the freshman team met an undefeated G. W. team and went down to a narrow and heartbreaking defeat. The season ended with a loss to Woodson.

The Groveton freshmen displayed constant desire, determination, and hustle on the gridiron not only in games but also in practice every day. Coaches Ashline and Tolley certainly had good material to work with in preparing the boys for future junior varsity and varsity teams. Mike Serbousek was presented the team's sportsmanship award at the fall athletic assembly.

girl's hockey

With five returning lettermen and several girls from last year's junior varsity, the 1964 Varsity Hockey Team ended the season with a respectable 2-2-4 record.

Led by Coach Doris Torrice and co-captains Jeanne Moore and Margaret Lilly, the girls displayed good sportsmanship, team work, desire, hustle, effort, and skill. Hard work and determination brought the team from behind either to win or tie in several games. An extremely fast line and a strong, dependable backfield were the outstanding qualities of this year's team.

The season was marked by dominating victories over Jefferson and Edison, defensive battles with Lee, Madison, Stuart, and Woodson, and narrow defeats by Marshall and McLean. The backfield held the opposing teams to just six points, the least points scored against any team in the county; the line made a total of thirteen goals, with Jeanne Moore, Linda Barber, and Wanda Wheeler scoring the most. The team finished out the season in the winning side when it placed first among county schools in the annual Hockey Field Day at Herndon.

At the fall athletic assembly, Margaret Lilly was recognized with the Most Valuable Player Award and Karen Staats with the Sportsmanship Award.

The Junior Varsity Hockey Team, led by Coach Sarah Lytton and co-captains Linda Belles and Rosa Valencia, displayed good team work and spirit as they completed the season with a 2-4-2 record. Gaining valuable experience for future years, the team scored victories over Jefferson and Edison, tied Lee and McLean, and lost to Marshall, Madison, Woodson, and Stuart.

The team was very proud of the four girls who went to the Hockey Field Day at Herndon: Linda Belles, Rosa Valencia, Kathy Ellis, Susan Brubaker. Rosa Valencia was awarded the Junior Varsity Sportsmanship Award at the fall athletic assembly.

The 1964-65 Tigers, under the direction of Coach Jack White, fought their way to Groveton's seventh consecutive winning season in varsity basketball. A relatively small team, the Tigers were known for their hustle and desire, as they came from behind in most of their victories.

Stressing defense above all, Coach White employed several types of zones, a man-to-man defense, and a full court press. This tight defense and a fast break offense led Groveton to seventh place in an extremely competitive Northern Virginia League and to their seventh straight tournament.

The Tigers always produced thrilling games. The outstanding team effort came on the Wakefield court; a Wakefield basket in the last second of overtime gave the victory to the '65 Northern Virginia Champions. A three point loss to G. W. and a ten point victory over Woodson also highlighted the season. Complete dedication can describe the determination of the coach, managers, and players.

Two of our players were recognized by area newspapers: Jay Radin was selected as a member of the All Northern Virginia First Team, and Ron Collier received an honorable mention. Jay Radin also received the team's Most Valuable Player Trophy, and Mike Bramley was voted the Sportsmanship Award by his teammates.

Next year's varsity team will have many fine prospects from the 1965 Junior Varsity Basketball Team, the best J.V. Groveton has ever had. Led by Coach Henderson, the team won the Fairfax County Championship and second place in the Northern Virginia Tournament finals. With different boys providing the winning combination in almost every game, the team compiled an overall 17-4 record. The boys, seeming to play their best under pressure, won many games by two points or less. At the buzzer, a long shot by Bob Hileman gave the Junior Tigers a two point victory over Washington and Lee. In the Tournament semifinals, the J.V., behind by 17 points late in the first half, battled back to defeat Wakefield. Hammond took an early lead in the Tournament finals and went on to defeat the Tigers 63-47. The winner of the team's Sportsmanship Award was Henry Saunders.

For the second straight year the Groveton Freshman Basketball Team remained undefeated. In preparing the boys for future junior varsity and varsity teams, Coach Schuman stressed defense and teamwork. The boys, with the skill and the desire to win, proved in each game, that they were the best team. The 1966 J.V. Team should continue the Tiger's winning tradition. Alan Moore was selected by his teammates as the winner of the Sportsmanship Award.

The most outstanding achievement in the history of girls' athletics at Groveton was accomplished this year by the Girls' Varsity Basketball Team by capturing a tie for the Fairfax County Championship with an 11-1 record. In the opening game, the team suffered a heartbreaking two point loss to Annandale. A ten game winning streak followed including exciting victories over Herndon, Marshall, and McLean. The highlight of the season came when an undefeated Woodson team and the once-beaten Groveton team took the floor in the title game; displaying all their ability and desire, the Groveton girls won the all-important game, and the championship 60-41. At the winter athletic assembly Wanda Wheeler was awarded the Most Valuable Player trophy and Jeanne Moore was recognized with the Sportsmanship Award. The outlook for Coach Ingham's team next year is very bright since the '65 team included only 4 seniors, while the starting line-up consisted entirely of underclassmen.

The Girls' Junior Varsity Basketball Team followed the varsity's pace-setting trend with a fine record of eight wins and four losses. Losing many players from last year's outstanding team, Coach Mann faced a year of rebuilding. These valuable varsity prospects, with a keen desire to win, collected victories, losing only to Madison, Jefferson, Woodson, and Annandale. The team honored Carolyn Reid by awarding her the Sportsmanship Award.

The 1964-65 Wrestling Team ranked eleventh in the highly competitive Northern Virginia League and twenty-second out of fifty-four schools in the state. Handicapped by inexperience, the matemen worked exceedingly hard throughout the season and gave their opponents top competition. Team captain Larry Christ, losing one match during the regular season, won first place in the 120 lb. class at the league tounrament and placed fourth at the state tournament.

School spirit at the wrestling matches increased somewhat this year. Coach Underhill is optimistic about more support and a stronger team next winter. The most Valuable Wrestler was Larry Christ. Bruce Blessing was awarded the team's Sportsmanship Award. The Junior Varsity Sportsmanship Award was won by Frank Garber.

Coach Ford, in his first year as Varsity Baseball Coach, rebuilt the 1965 team from sixteen boys, including four lettermen. As the opening game approached, the team did not have too many practice sessions outside. At the start of the season, the pitching and defense were the Tigers' strong points, and the lack of a consistent offense was the team's weakness.

The Northern Virginia 1-A League was divided in half for the baseball season this year. Meeting all league opponents twice, Groveton played in the highly competitive southern division.

Many hopeful underclassmen tried out for positions on the Junior Varsity Baseball Team this year. The team's eagerness to learn and play was a good indication of what type of season would follow. Mr. Foglio, in his second year as the J.V. Baseball Coach, held practices at Bryant and taught the boys the fundamentals of baseball. While the J.V. boys were playing for their own enjoyment, they were also gaining valuable experience for next year's varsity team.

The Fairfax County Relays at Marshall opened the 1965 outdoor track season. A series of meets with other schools followed with the Northern Virginia Track Meet and the State Meet, the final events of the year. Led by Coach Duvall, the Tiger trackmen spent many hours training March through May. Although a good season was not anticipated, a strong, consistent effort was expected, especially from the several individuals in the running and field events. The participation of many impressive freshmen and sophomores created a bright outlook for future track teams.

In the Fairfax County Relays at the start of the season, John Caldwell placed first in the pole vault with a jump of 11 feet 9 inches. Groveton placed fourteenth in a field of fifteen schools.

As a result, the Tennis Team had not only valuable experience but also several impressive newcomers. Holding the home matches at the Belle Haven Tennis Courts, Coach White and the boys looked forward to many victories.

annie get your gun

The smell of grease-paint became uncomfortably familiar to the members of the cast (especially the Indians) of Annie Get Your Gun during the rehearsals and later the performances; however, regardless of minor discomforts, everyone in the musical worked extraordinarily for the privilege of wearing that paint.

For several weeks there was the mad scramble of aspiring actors checking out overnight copies of various roles, memorizing lines, and auditioning continually. But after the list of cast members was posted, the work really began; rehearsals started that very afternoon and were held everyday until performance time. Caught in the whirl of learning lines and songs, getting costumes, painting backdrops, designing and outfitting sets, and choreographing numbers, the cast found themselves leading a double life in which sleep did not play a very big part.

Finally, opening night arrived with such a fine performance of the sprightly musical, that the audience gave the cast a standing ovation. All three performances were so enthusiastically received, that the first musical ever presented in Groveton may well start a tradition in the school's annual calendar.

This year, Groveton was host to a German American Field Service student, Utz Felcht. Utz stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Krumm. With his outgoing personality and genial sense of humor, Utz quickly became a friend of many Groveton students. Almost as soon as he arrived, he was deeply involved in school activities; he worked with the S.C.A. (mostly as an observer of American student government) and on the yearbook staff as a photographer. In the spring, Utz was a valuable member of the track team. When Utz returns to Germany, he will have one half year more in high school; before going on to study at the University, he will be drafted into the Army for two years. After Utz leaves the service, he plans to study science at the University of Berlin. Sometime during his college career (which lasts eight years), Utz plans to study at Harvard for one or two years.

This year, the month of February meant "More or Less Music" to the choral and band students. Actually, selecting, purchasing, and learning the music was only half of the work to Jubilee '65. Backdrops had to be painted, scenery assembled and lightings experimented with in order to obtain just the right effect. Little by little, costumes were assembled and approved; routines and skits were chosen and perfected. Having only two performances this year, the students worked hard for a most important opening night. The crowds served to prove that the talent and many efforts of the Music Department had been acknowledged and appreciated.

The start of the school year 1964-65 brought a brand new addition to the Groveton student body. Immediately this new supply of Tigers was charged with the responsibility of learning to respect traditions, shaping themselves into a unified class, and taking the initiative to build that class for the future.

The first of the year saw the Freshmen disunited and a long way from becoming upperclassmen. The class began to take shape, however, with the election of class officers who planned activities that demanded cooperation and work from the entire class.

Through hard work and desire the Freshmen earned their reward; the end of the year found them one step up the ladder and an inseparable part of Groveton.

By the end of the year the Sophomores discovered that they had a head start on the prom and that they had become experieneed in the art of aeeumulating funds, a talent they definitely will need next year.

This year our imaginative Junior class, aside from holding bake sales and carwashes, sponsored two unusual projects to raise money for the prom. The first of these was the highly successful Powder Puff football game, which matched the junior girls against the senior girls. The highlight of the game, however, was the boy cheerleaders in full costume.

The second activity was the eye-catching contest for the best looking legs (boys' only). Aspiring contestants sent in photographs of their legs, which the student body judged at five cents a vote.

By these amusing enterprises the Junior class provided the Seniors with a lovely prom in May at the Washington Hotel. Their originality and initiative promise to make them a most interesting senior class of 1966.

Now, we alone remain to remember the eager Freshmen of '62 and the pride we felt as sophomores. As juniors, we became an established part of the school by devoting ourselves to a wide range of activities. From our last year we shall fondly remember the parking lot, the cafeteria signs, college and job applications, the prom, Annie, and, of course, Graduation. At last it is we who are donning the caps and gowns and saying farewell, and yet, ". . . thy shining symbol 'ere will be our guide unto eternity, for truth and love and light." Remember us, for we are a part of you. We are the Class of '65.

May Court

May Day As a variation of the traditional Funarama, May Day, occuring on May 1, was an innovation to our yearly activities. It differed in respect that it lasted only one day, had no rides, and featured a May Court ruled by a May Queen. There was also a May Pole dance participated in by the children of the local elementary school. During the day there were various games sponsored by the different organizations. In the afternoon, the formal coronation ceremony of the queen took place, and in the evening, a street dance entitled "Hawaii-A-Go-Go," featuring two local bands.

The May Queen, Gerry Smolka, reigned over the court composed of Liz Davis, Maid of Honor, and Janet Doyle, Janie Lassiter, Kathy Marshall, Sharon Persinger, and Ann Shelton.

S.C.A. In February, the following students were elected by the student body as officers of the S.C.A. for the 1965-66 school year:

Vice President — Steve West
Secretary — Cindy Reifsynder

In the May Day festivities, they presented a Thespian written, "Meller Drammer."

On March 20, they received a Superior Rating in Grade VI music at the District IV Musical Festival. On April 10, they marched in the Cherry Blossom Festival Parade. Acting as host to the William Fleming High School Band of Roanoke, they held an exchange concert on April 22. They also entered the Solo Ensemble Festival on April 24 and participated in the May Day Festivities. The band was honored to perform at the New York World's Fair on May 21 and 22, both at the New York State Pavilion and the Tiparillo Band Pavilion.
